Engaging the Generational Divide
Presented by: Career Management Associates

You may wonder why we discuss different generations in the workplace? Many conflicts arise out of two people seeing the same situation through different lenses. Each of the 4 current generations in our workplace have different general characteristics, communication styles and needs. Understanding each of the generations can help any employee better navigate workplace relationships and interactions. In this workshop we will discuss the generational characteristics as well as how each prefers to work and communicate, to bridge the gap between the generational divides.

Who Should Attend? Managers/Supervisors; Human Resource Directors; Safety Coordinators
